FOUR HERITAGE-PROTECTED
ROOMS IN 1920S STYLE

UP TO SIX MODERN
CONFERENCE ROOMS

The blend of classical and modern is what makes BRAHMS KONTOR a unique office building in Hamburg. The building's one-of-a-kind features can also be enjoyed in the event area, which opened at the beginning of 2012.

There are a variety of heritage-protected historical rooms as well as over 500m² of ultra-modern conference areas available. Designed by Hennings Börn Interieurs, the spaces blend together harmoniously with premium-quality furnishings and an impressive lighting concept, at the same time continuing the 1920s style throughout.

BRAHMS KONTOR offers you the perfect setting for your conferences, meetings, seminars, press conferences and cultural events.

THE PERFECT AMBIENCE:

HERITAGE-PROTECTED ROOMS

The historical rooms offer a unique ambience: parquet flooring and wall panelling in a variety of woods lend the rooms extraordinary charm.

With a consistent use of colours and forms, the 1920s style has been continued harmoniously. High-quality materials underline the uniqueness of the rooms: leather-covered tables, comfortable and stylish seating and lounge furniture as well as exclusive, partly hand-made ceiling, wall and floor lamps create an atmosphere beyond compare.

The heritage-protected rooms are of historical significance because, during the great flood, Hamburg police department's crisis committee had its base here, led by Helmut Schmidt, Senator of the Interior and later Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany.

SONATE –

WITH RACHALS GRAND PIANO AS THE FINISHING TOUCH

The heritage-protected parlour room Sonate is home to the Rachals piano restored specially for BRAHMS KONTOR. This was built in 1904 by what was then Hamburg's oldest piano-making company M. F. Rachals & Co. – in the same year that the foundation stone for the office building was laid. The instrument was commissioned by a merchant family from Hamburg who lived in Brahmallee in the Harvestehude district. Johannes Brahms also played on pianos made by Rachals during his time in Hamburg.

The piano, which can now be found in BRAHMS KONTOR, survived both World Wars and the flood disaster. The piano was lovingly restored in 2012 by Lüneburg-based piano maker Matthias Kayser.

The results can now be admired – and guests are more than welcome to play on the piano.

STATE-OF-THE-ART TECHNICAL EQUIPMENT:

FLEXIBLE CONFERENCE AREA

Joining on to the heritage-protected rooms is a conference area of around 185 m² in size which can be used in a variety of forms thanks to a flexible dividing wall system. The space can be split into as many as six rooms with this system.

There are two rooms available to you for meetings and video conferences which are separated by a permanent wall.

This impressive space features a harmonious colour and light concept as well as premium-quality furnishings. At the same time, special attention has been devoted to offering a wide range of functions and an extremely high standard of conference equipment.

All rooms have Internet access and wireless access to the central media players (Blu-ray, DVD, CD, etc.).
